

Eyes AND Ears

VOL. 9, NO. 28

"PREPARED BY AND FOR THE CAST OF WALT DISNEY WORLD"

JULY 13, 1979

ON THE RIGHT TRACK

What has 9 miles of electrical wiring, 53 electric motors, 2,000 electrical contacts and interlocks, is 201 feet long, carries 250 guests, weighs 50 tons empty, and has 136 tires? If you were one of our Monorail Maintenance crew, you would have guessed very early on, that it's a six-car monorail train.

EYES & EARS paid a visit to our Monorail Roundhouse to see what happens to our trains while they're not carrying guests and to talk to Lee Whittle, Manager of Transportation Maintenance. "Our monorails have completed 3,814,396 miles as of the end of June," Lee told us, "And we've had a minimal amount of maintenance problems during that time — mainly due to the high standard of work from our crew here in the Monorail shop."

Our Monorail Maintenance cast are not only responsible for keeping our trains running, they also improve them. Since the shop was started, our cast members have developed over 100 improvements to the Monorail system's safety and efficiency. "We're given a free hand to develop new ideas for the trains," Bob Burger, one of the Monorail electricians, told us. Among the ideas developed by the 25 Monorail Maintenance cast members have been:

- Filling the upper-side tires with perma-foam. This triples the life of the tire and eliminates the chance of damage from blowouts.
- Rebuilding the air-conditioning system to give a better distribution of cool air, more efficiently.
- Redistributing the storage of batteries to allow easier maintenance of the battery compartment.
- The installation of air pressure sensors to warn when a tire's pressure drops below 75 psi (normal tire pressure is 90 psi).
- The redistribution of power to the eight drive motors. Before, the failure of one motor would shut all eight down. Now, the train will still run even if a motor fails.

This all may seem very complicated to many of our cast members but the end result is easy to understand. Our Monorails continue to run throughout most of the day with a minimal amount of mechanical problems. "Most of the problems we do encounter are unpredictable," Lee explained, "But we can respond very quickly to any situation and usually have the train back in service within a short period of time. This is due to the initiative and expertise of our crew here in the Monorail shop."

MORE MONORAIL FACTS

- Each Monorail has 58 circuit breakers, 137 switches, 46 push buttons and over 200 lights.
- Each load tire (the main support tire) is 18 ply with a life of 50,000 miles. Each tire weighs 300 pounds with rim.
- Although the Monorail and Steam Train shop is rectangular, it is referred to as The Roundhouse out of tradition. Early steam locomotive storage sheds were round. Locomotives were brought into a central turntable in the shed, then turned and run onto a storage track. The advantage of this system was that all locomotives were equally accessible at any time regardless of which order they were put into the shed. The system is very similar to the one used for our monorails.

VACATION CENTRAL HAS THE ANSWERS FOR OUR GUESTS

The main concern of vacationers coming to Central Florida is the availability of gasoline while on route to Florida and during their stay. To help put our guests' minds at rest, we now have Vacation Central — a fully staffed switchboard designed to supply our guests with the latest in gasoline availability information.

The idea of Walt Disney World Vacation Central was conceived and put into operation within a very short period of time. Jack Myers, of our Marketing Division, told EYES & EARS that it was about a week from the go-ahead to the time the switchboard became operational. "In that time," Jack explained, "we had approached the Central Florida hotels for their support and subsequently we had 230,000 form letters printed explaining how Vacation Central works. These letters were mailed by the hotels to their guests with confirmed reservations. Here at Walt Disney World, a similar project was underway and personalized letters were sent to all of our guests with reservations."

Needless to say, this type of operation requires a great deal of teamwork and could not have been ready so quickly without the cooperation of many departments — particularly the Print Shop, Vista United Telecommunications, Finance, Operations and Word Processing.

The program is now fully operational, and the information available to our telephone operators is updated daily. If you have relatives or friends coming to the Central Florida area and Walt Disney World, you might want to let them know that they can get gasoline information by calling our "Tele-Tip" line at (305) 828-6700.

VANPOOL OPENINGS

Cast Activities has openings in the following Vanpools:

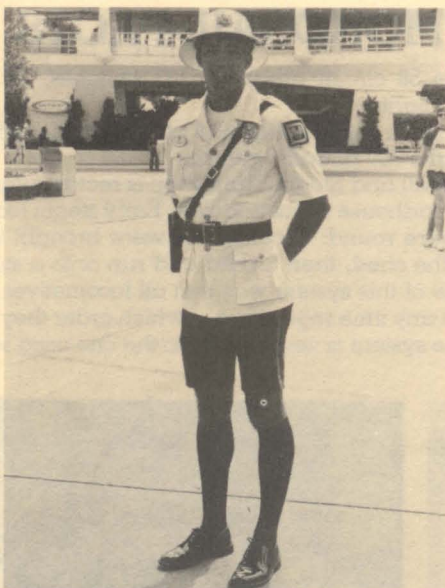

Kissimmee/St. Cloud area, Monday through Friday, 6 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. shift.

Azalea Park/Union Park/32807 ZIP code area, Monday through Friday, 6 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. shift.

Melbourne area, Monday through Friday, 7 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. shift.

If you're serious about saving money and one of these Vanpools fits your schedule, then you should call Dave or Jill in Cast Activities at extension 4254, immediately.

NEW SECURITY COSTUME BEING TESTED

During the remainder of the summer our Costuming Department will be fitting a limited number of Security hosts and hostesses with this new "tropical style" costume. Use of the new costume will begin this Sunday, July 15. The ladies' costume will be almost identical in style to the mens' style shown in the picture and modeled by Security Host Steve Forgy.

DOES YOUR LOCKER REQUIRE REPAIR?

In a continuing effort to upgrade our locker rooms, Wardrobe is requesting that all cast members, who have lockers in need of repair, to please contact the wardrobe area from which their locker was issued, immediately.

Repair on all lockers throughout the property are currently being scheduled.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

There were some erroneous reports on the radio and in the newspapers last week concerning the opening of our Tokyo Disneyland project. The project will open in 1983, not in 1988 as reported by the media. This error was due to a misinterpretation of a press release from Tokyo.

YOU AND OUR THEME SHOW

A few months ago, EYES & EARS featured a story on our Disney Theme Show. In that article, we emphasized the need for cast members to use the tunnels and backstage areas to travel between areas and to take breaks. It is important for all cast members throughout Walt Disney World to remember the rules of stage presence so our guests can enjoy our show fully.

- If you are working and are in costume, please stay in your own area as much as possible. Frontierland costumes in Tomorrowland or Polynesian costumes in Fort Wilderness distract from the show. If you have to cross another themed area, please use the tunnels or backstage areas.

- Please do not go into guest areas in costume to eat, shop or take breaks. If you need to purchase something from one of our Walt Disney World merchandise locations, please wait until you are off work and out of costume.

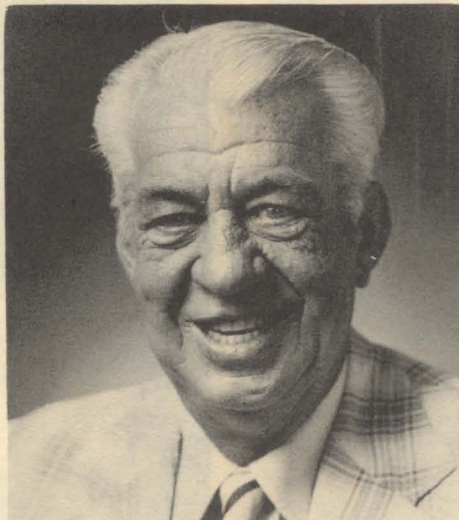

- If you are not required to wear a costume at work, please remove your name tag before entering guest areas . . . unless you are working in that guest area, of course . . . and don't forget to replace your name tag before you return to work.

MICKEY'S GOLDEN EARS CLUB

On June 26, Ida Mae Steverson retired from Walt Disney World. She began working in the Fantasyland Cafeteria on March 18, 1972 and later transferred to King Stefan's Banquet Hall. Ida has been a native of Orange County, Florida, all her life, and prior to joining our cast, she drove a schoolbus and worked in the Tildenville Elementary School in Winter Garden for 28½ years. Her favorite pastime is fishing and she loves the ocean, planning to spend more time there during her retirement.

Charles "Bud" Dillner retires from Walt Disney World today, July 13. Bud joined the company in 1955 at Disneyland and transferred to the Tri-Circle D Ranch at Fort Wilderness in August 1971.

He was raised in Illinois where his father trained and raised Percheron horses and ponies. The small ponies that pull our Cinderella's Coach in the parade were trained by Bud on his farm in Kansas City, Missouri.

When asked what he planned to do when he retires, Bud told us, "Work with horses and do a little traveling."

A REMINDER ABOUT PARKING

With additional cast members working for the summer at Walt Disney World, a few of our employees are experiencing difficulties with parking. To make parking easier for you and your fellow cast members, try to follow these simple guidelines when parking your car:

- Park only in assigned parking areas. We are experiencing some problems in our main employee parking lot in the North Service Area, and in the Chip 'n' Dale lot, of cast members parking along the fences and edges of the area. This often causes an obstruction which is an inconvenience for other cast members and may result in damage to your car.

- Do not leave your car in "convenient" areas while you make a quick trip inside a building. Two particular problem areas are around the flagpole at the Contemporary Resort Hotel and along the edge of the Walt Disney World Village. Your car can cause an obstruction, and possibly an accident, even if left for only a minute.

- Be considerate of other cast members when you park and be prepared to walk a little way . . . the exercise is good for all of us.

LETTERS TO US

The basket arrangement of flowers was truly beautiful and loved by all. Your kind thoughts and expressions of sympathy are deeply appreciated.

Thank you all for the lovely flowers that were sent to me. I look forward to returning to work as soon as possible.

"It Takes People"

Quick thinking by Carl Dvorak, of our 20,000 Leagues Under the Sea attraction, may have saved a guests life a few weeks ago. Carl and fellow employee, Kim Strandberg, saw a guest exiting from one of our submarines, apparently in trouble and unable to breathe or speak. From his familiarity with the Heimlich Maneuver (part of Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation training), Carl realized that the man was choking. While Kim called First Aid, Carl assisted the guest and cleared the obstruction in his throat. His prompt action may have saved the guests life.

Carl has been with Walt Disney World since he joined our cast in April 1974 as a Casual Temporary employee. In between "commanding" our fleet of submarines, Carl has spent time in the Army as an Airborne Special Forces radio operator and is currently attending the University of Central Florida where he is studying to be an attorney.

Now statused as a Casual Regular, Carl told us, "I find that the weekends on 20,000 Leagues are a nice change of pace."

One way to beat the cost of gasoline is to roller skate to work, and if you drive from Kissimmee, you're probably already familiar with Bob Andrews, who skates to his job at the Polynesian Resort Hotel front desk. "I don't do it every day," Bob told us, "Skating in the rain or on wet surfaces is a little tricky."

Bob hails from Ottawa, Illinois, and has a degree in Speech Communication and Public Relations. After a visit to both Disneyland and Walt Disney World, Bob decided to take his experience in hotel work and move to Florida. He joined our cast at the Polynesian in July 1977.

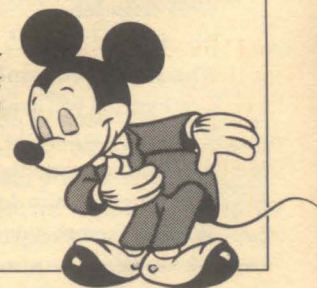

In his spare time, Bob enjoys cooking, swimming, and of course, roller skating. "I started roller skating on a visit to San Francisco's Golden Gate Park," Bob explained, "Now I roller skate about three hours a day." It's a cheap way to travel, too. Bob's 1-hour and 10-minute, 9-mile skate starts at 6 a.m. and all it takes is a little encouragement from passing cars and an orange or a candy bar for energy!

Mary Ann Peters of our Lake Buena Vista Office recently celebrated her 10th anniversary with Walt Disney World. She originally moved to Florida from her home state of Pennsylvania in 1961 after falling in love with the Sunshine State while visiting her sister. She had several jobs in Florida before coming to Walt Disney World - "My favorite job was a secretary to the station manager at WDBO radio," Mary Ann explained, "It was a fascinating experience with never a dull moment."

When Walt Disney World was announced, Mary Ann applied for a position as receptionist at the Administration Building (now WED Enterprises). However, she was offered the job as secretary to Jim McManus, then the comptroller in Finance. After 3½ years, Mary Ann was promoted to executive secretary to Bo Boyd, Director of Merchandise. Bo was then promoted to Corporate Vice-President but Mary Ann stayed with Paul Bellew, the new Director of Merchandise. About 1½ years ago, she was promoted to Administrative Assistant to Ed Moriarty, Vice-President of Lake Buena Vista.

Mary Ann enjoys reading, swimming, cooking and looking after her dog named Bear and her husband. She also enjoys her work and feels she has been fortunate to work with people she likes and respects.

CAST ACTIVITIES

AND THEY CALL GETTING UP AT 6 A.M. TO PADDLE A CANOE — SPORT?

Well, To Tell The Truth, Some People Have Called It A Sport And Some Have Called It Other Things, But We Call It The "Canoe Races Of The World" And Now Is The Time To Join All The Fun!

Last year's Canoe Races of the World champions — the Fort Wilderness Scavengers women's team.

That's right, July is here and with it comes the hoarse shouts of "stroke . . . stroke . . . stroke" echoing across Frontierland, as cast canoe teams begin putting the final touches on their canoeing techniques in hopes of bringing home the gold in our 7th Annual Canoe Challenge of the World.

It all began in Disneyland years ago, as Operations hosts and hostesses started a friendly little race in Indian War Canoes to find out who the best team was . . . and has grown and grown and grown through the years to become one of the largest and most popular cast participation events!

And now entering our seventh year of competition, this annual challenge pits teams of employees against the clock on a 1,000-meter course layed out around the Rivers of America in Frontierland.

Friends and coworkers pool together to form 10-member teams to compete in one of three categories . . . Men, Women and Mixed Teams. And now is the time to begin forming a team for this year's race and getting it entered!

As you read this, there is still one week left for teams to practice on the course before the actual races begin. And there is still room for additional teams in all three categories!

How do you sign up? Simple, just decide on your category (Men, Women or Mixed) and get together with your friends or coworkers to pick a captain. Then have your captain call Thom

Murphy in Cast Activities (extension 4254) to officially get on the racing roster.

Murph will provide your team with information sheets and answer all of your questions regarding the race. Then just get out their and practice!

In brief, each team must be composed of eight paddlers and two steermen. Cast Activities will provide the canoes, paddles and officials for the race. Time trials will begin July 23rd with each team having a chance to be timed around the course several times. This score is not kept, but used as a guide for your team to analyze their techniques and speed.

Then, on July 30, the Semifinals will begin. Each team will be given two runs with the fastest time becoming their team time. After all teams have completed the Semifinals, the five fastest teams in each category will enter the Finals on August 6, 7 and 8. In the Finals, teams in each category are "time-handicapped" and compete to determine the category winner and then the overall winner. That team then becomes the Canoe Champions of the World!

In fact, last year's Canoe Champs of the World were Fort Wilderness Girls . . . and this year year it could be your team!

So get your friends and coworkers together and form a canoe team . . . it could be an attraction, a shop, food location, area, land or just about anything, then call Murph at extension 4254 for details! Last year we had some 60 teams entered, and this year we would like even more!
